

Regional Investment Incentives

Regional investment incentives can be granted to new or established investors, SMEs or large companies, in both, domestic or foreign ownership. One of the primary goals is (beside increasing overall competitiveness of Slovak republic in a global environment) to reduce regional differences. Therefore, maximum investment incentives intensity and minimum conditions depend heavily on investment location.

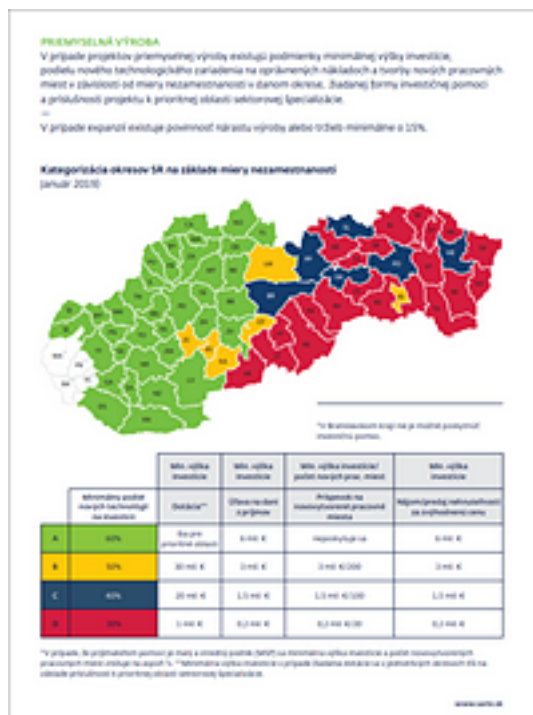

Maximum intensity of the regional investment incentives (as a % of eligible costs):

Following types of projects can be supported by regional investment incentives:

- industrial production
- technology centres
- combined project of industrial production and technology centre
- shared services centres

Minimum conditions are outlined for each project type separately. There is no legal entitlement to regional investment incentives.
